UF/IFAS Fundraising Report........................................Cody Helmer

Helmer provided update on happenings in the IFAS Advancement office. Since the fall meeting, UF celebrated the UF Go Greater Campaign Kick-off, Advancement office moved back to McCarty Hall, Annie Muscato has left the office to pursue a PhD in Ag Ed and Communication. Through a review of reports have discovered an estimated $6 million in gifts-in-kind to IFAS, and have received the green light for the CALS Classroom Renovation project.
IFAS has achieved $89.22 million of $200 million campaign goal, and for fiscal year (July-June) 2018 is at $26.9 million of $30 million goal, with an expected strong end to the year.

Helmer then highlighted recent gift commitments asking individual gift officers to comment: Amy Lohman, 1923 Fund, Howard Family, Wolfson Family, and Donaldson Family. And reviewed multiple anticipated commitments of $750K+ from four prospects: Altman Plants, Anonymous, Boyd Family and Tall Timbers.

Helmer asked Chiarelli to review communications efforts. Chiarelli reviewed the seven major campaign themes for IFAS and five key initiatives: Field & Fork Farm and Gardens, Invasive Species Center, Center for Leadership, Nature Coast Biological Station, and Institute for Sustainable Food Systems. Then asked staff to share updates on initiatives in each of the three arms of IFAS.

For Extension, Davies provided an update on the Road to 67 county endowment initiative, continued need for 4-H Camp renovations and matching gift opportunity, exploring opportunities in precision agriculture, and continuing to pursue documentation of gifts in kind.

Smith mentioned programs like gifts of “Steer a Year” and grain gifts could be a good pursuit in Florida. Chiarelli shared the cattle gift option will be ready to launch soon at the Okeechobee Livestock Market as a pilot of this concept.

For Research, Helmer and Conn shared an Invasive Species effort continues to focus of conversations, as well as student research experience opportunities through Path for Pioneers and seeking to continue enhancing corporate relationships. SHARE members can be integral to opening doors in the corporate space and helping make connections. Summer experiences for students has been very impactful, Yara has funded some through giving and has been very successful; a great model/system for others to support.

For CALS, Chiarelli reviewed the ‘41Fellows initiative, Graduation Guardians opportunity in the mid-range gift space, need for enhanced scholarships, and the CALS classroom renovation project with naming opportunities.

Taylor Johnson shared an update on the CALS Student Philanthropy Council, and its mission to raise awareness of philanthropy, and built on three pillars of education, gratitude and engagement.

SPC will work with the Advancement Office to send updates on fundraising and information about giving toward the match.

Mike Sopko, director of gift planning at UF Foundation, presented regarding expected impacts on giving of the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act of 2017.

Committee Reports
Membership Committee – P. Chaires

Chaires provided update on recruitment efforts, the committee has been reviewing representation on Council and seeking to diversify commodity/industry representation. The committee was successful in securing three new member prospect guests here with us today and multiple others that had conflicts or need to defer to future meetings.

Chaires presented Mike Lester as a member candidate for confirmation.

Kate English motioned to affirm Mike Lester as a member of the SHARE Council, Mike Stuart seconded. Motion passed unanimously.

English then presented idea that Peter Chairs and Staci Sims should be elected to a full two-year term as chairs of their respective committees.

Mike Stuart motioned to elect Peter Chaires to Chair of M/N Committee and Staci Sims to C/E Committee, Tom Hart seconded. Motion passed unanimously.

Communication/Education Committee – Sims

Sims shared update on Council activities since the Sept 27, 2017 meeting. SHARE has assisted with three regional fundraising events. November Rick Minton and Jeff Bass hosted an evening event for approx. 25 Indian River REC stakeholders including multiple new prospects in Ft. Pierce. February Kate English participated in a lunch co-hosted by Southwest Florida Research and Education Foundation; the foundation is committed to raising $500,000 to donate to IFAS to build a graduate student living facility in Immokalee. February 28 Mike Lester hosted an event in Orlando on the rooftop of his downtown office, Talon Wealth Management, 30 local alumni and prospects attended.

Upcoming in May IFAS is partnering with Florida Farm Bureau to host an event in Washington D.C. We expect 200 people to attend.

Sims requested input from SHARE on making inroads into summer industry meetings to have an elevated IFAS presence? Cocktail socials haven’t been successful because the schedule of each conference is repeated year-to-year with no room for additional activities. One idea has been to offer a production-oriented faculty member to do break-out sessions at the conference (Folta, Ellis) and development staff can be present. Need to determine what meetings this could work for, who can help us get on meeting schedule, and SHARE members would need to attend sessions and build them up with their network.

Stuart mentioned FFVA has many researchers present and plugging in this way is much more effective than cocktail hours. He suggested the committee connect with Lisa Lochridge in regards to FFVA, she has commenced planning for September.

Brown agreed and stated the trick is to get faculty plugged in who can/will include a development angle as part of their story and presentation. They need to be able to talk about impact of giving.
